SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT PROJECTS

Project 1: Jammming (Spotify API)
Type: Frontend Web Application
Technology Used: React JS, CSS, Node JS

Jammming is a frontend web application that allows user to search any songs they want on Spotify, wrapping them as your new playlist and then save them back to Spotify. I use Node JS to fetch data from Spotify API such as the picture and the details of each song like song name and artist name to show on my application

Project 2: FOURFIT Exercise Tracker
Type: Frontend Web Application
Technology Used: React JS, CSS

FOURFIT is an exercise tracking web-based application with a minimalism design that makes life easier, I developed a feature that user can make their life reminder by adding tasks they want or deleting tasks they don't want. I plan to develop this app using Node JS, Express JS and MongoDB to create backend CRUD operations.
